The answer to the cry, "There aren't enough hours in my day!" is discovered in the More Hours In My Day Seminar featuring "The Fast-Food Kitchen." Sheri will show how to turn frustration into fun, and turn effort into ease through residential routines and office organization, meal time management in the "Fast Food Kitchen ©," purse organization, simple storage, helpful hospitality hints and making memories. This seminar is not just a brief organizational binge but a lasting lifestyle change. You will see that having more hours in my day is not just a fantasy, but an attainable fact. It is designed for women who want Biblical truths and practical helps. This is the updated original seminar presented by Emilie Barnes.

Cost:
Registration $20.
Early registration $15 if post-marked by April 25, 2010.
Light refreshments served.

Additional books and materials will be available for purchase at the seminar.
